Directions (Q. 81-89) : Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions given below it. Certain words have been printed in bold to help you locate them while answering some of the questions.

The Prime Minister's recent trip to Nigeria, the first bilateral prime ministerial visit to Africa since Jawaharlal Nehru's 45 years ago, recalls a long neglected Indian obligation. "It is up to Asia to help Africa to the best of her ability," Nehru told the Bandung Conference in 1955, "because we are sister continents." The Prime Minister's proposed strategic partnership with African nations might at last make good that 52-year old promise and also, perhaps, challenge China's expedient diplomacy.

In the intervening years, the West's sanctimonious boycott of many African regimes—after nearly a century of extreme colonial exploitation—left the continent in the grip of oppressive rulers looking for new political sponsors, arms-sellers and trading partners. Not only was it an abdication of the developed world's responsibility to the world's least developed region, sanctions actually compounded the sufferings of poorer Africans. The Darfur killings continue and there is no mellowing of Robert Mugabe's repression in Zimbabwe. Abandoned by the West, Africa looked elsewhere. Beijing filled the vacuum by eagerly embracing dangerous and unsavoury regimes in its search for oil and other minerals. China demonstrated its influence by playing host to 48 out of 53 African leaders a year ago in a jamboree that was historic as well as historical. Historic because China has succeeded in becoming the pre-eminent outside power in Africa and its second biggest trading partner. Historical because modern Chinese diplomacy draws on the Middle Kingdom's ancient formula : the tribute system. It was how the Son of Heaven brought those nations whom the Celestial Empire called "barbarians" into his imperial trading and, through it, cultural and political system.

Contemporary China's economic penetration of Africa also heralds a new era of cultural and political ties though the Chinese foreign ministry repeatedly assures the world that "our cooperation is not designed to be against or preclude any third party." This is untrue in a world of finite resources. Once the Chinese are established in a country, no one else gets a foothold. Myanmar, where India failed to obtain the desired gas concessions, is a prime example. Aware that the hunt for energy is a zero-sum game, China's leadership courts African leaders with regular visits and substantial grants.

After decades of neglect—Vajpayee's Africa visit over a decade ago was to attend a Commonwealth Summit—India will have to move cautiously but quickly if it is to break China's monopoly. Along with investing in Africa's human capital, China has outlined a strategic investment plan to build three to five trade economic cooperation zones in Africa by 2009 to boost trade, which is expected to tap $ 40 billion this year. That could double to $ 30 billion by 2010 on the back of an insatiable demand for natural resources to feed China's booming economy.

155. How many sons does 'D' have ?

Statements :

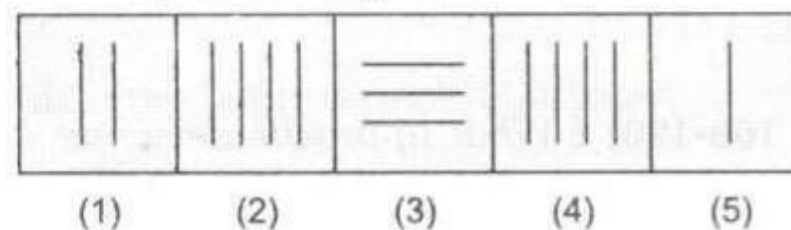

- I. R is the only sister of T and M who are sons of D.
- II. T and M are only brothers of R who is daughter of D.

Directions (Q. 156-160) : In each of these questions there are two sets of figures. The figures on the left are Problem figures (four figures and one question-marked space) and those on the right are answer figures indicated by number 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5. A series is established if one of the five answer figures is placed at the "question-marked space". Question figures form a series if they change from left to right according to some rule. The number of the answer figure which should be placed in the question-marked space is the answer. All the five figures, ie, four problem figures and one answer figure placed in the question-marked space should be considered as forming the series. Study the following question.

Problem Figures

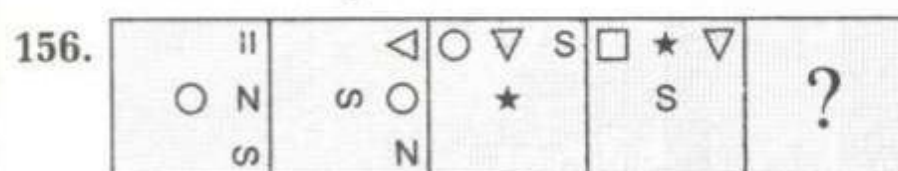

Answer Figures

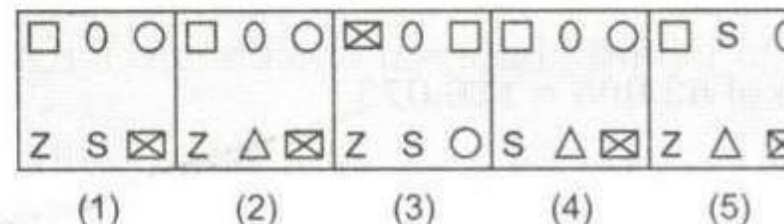

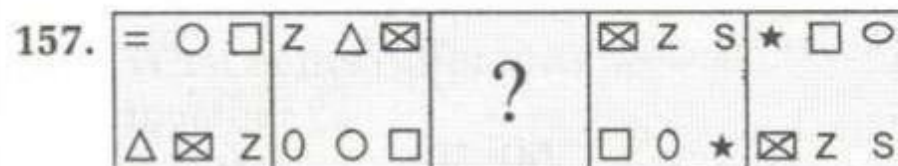

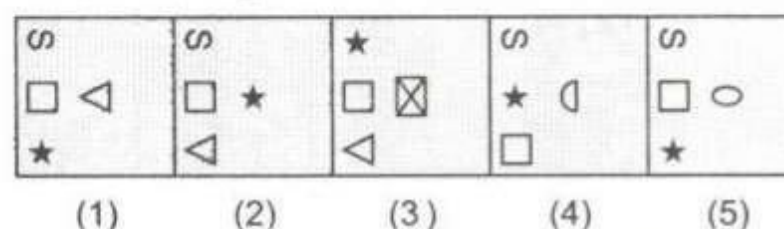

If we place the answer figure 4 in the question marked space it makes a series which indicates that one vertical line is added in each figure. So the answer is '4'. Note that if we go by only one aspect of 'number of lines' answer figure 3 may also fit in. So you have to consider all different aspects. Now solve the following questions.

Directions (Q. 191-200) : In the following passage, there are blanks, each of which has been numbered. These numbers are printed below the passage and against each, five words are suggested, one of which fits the blank appropriately. Find out the appropriate word in each case.

The (191) of evil, as well as the approach to dealing with evil is (192) in Eastern and Western religious traditions and culture. The East (193) that it is God's job to deal with evil. The individual has (194) to do with it; he can only pray. It is the God who will take action to oust evil from our midst. In certain religions there are specific deities responsible for (195) evil forces. So the power of prayer is appreciated; (196) needs only to pray and deities will take care.

The Eastern approach will doubtless seem (197) if not completely incomprehensible in the West (198) there is a much more action-oriented approach to dealing with evil. It is viewed as the (199) of the individual to take action against evil and to deal (200).
